2420 Functionality Write up:

- Users are able to sign up for an account with their email
- Users are able to login into their account with their created account
- Users are able to logout from their account if they've login
- Users are able to post a feed for a specific stock they choose if they've login
- Users are able to view a feed for a certain stock that they choose
- Users are able to view different stocks by selecting a company's name
- Users are able to view different times of a company's stock by zoom in